

"Lord Bramwell used to tell the jury a story of the pickpocket at the charity sermon who was so moved by the preacher's eloquence that he picked the pockets of everyone in reach and put the contents in the plate. Much in the practical application of the humanitarian activities of the service state suggests the charitable activity of the pickpocket." —Dean Roscoe Pound

Settlement Uncertain in Birmingham

By STAN ATKINS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Prospects for a final settlement of the Birmingham desegregation campaign were uncertain today despite an optimistic statement by Negro integration leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

King said Thursday night that an agreement virtually had been worked out except for minor details. A series of statements and counterstatements followed.

City officials immediately said any agreement worked out by a biracial committee was not binding on them. The committee, composed of business and civic leaders, has no official status.

The committee resumes work today. The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, one of the Negro leaders, said a news conference would be held later.

Both King and Abernathy warned that demonstrations would be resumed if no agreement is reached during the day.

Three Military Establishments Restrict Water

The pinch of the drought-prompted water shortage is being felt at the U.S. Air Force Academy, Ft. Carson and Ent Air Force Base.

The AFA, which has its own water wells, put watering restrictions into effect Tuesday, limiting both the amount of time and the number of days per week for sprinkling in residential areas.

Hours of lawn watering at the AFA are limited to 6 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 10 p.m. Even-numbered housing clusters water on even-numbered days and odd-numbered clusters on odd-numbered days.

Used water collected in four reservoirs, with well water added to it, is used for irrigation of areas other than housing clusters at the Academy.

Ft. Carson, which is on the city's watering system, is also on water restrictions, according to Maj. Arthur F. Paulsen, post engineer.

Residents at odd-numbered quarters or troop buildings can water on odd-numbered days and those at even-numbered quarters can water on even-numbered days with no watering on the 31st day of any month, nor between 5-8 p.m. No hoses are to be left running. (Turn to Page 4, Column 2)

Cascade News

By CAROLYN McADAMS — MU 7-9065

Santa Claus Land at the North Pole on Pikes Peak Highway in Cascade will have opening day Saturday May 11. Dr. A. C. Herzberger, president, announces new additions again this year which will include an "Enchanted Forest" covering some ten acres which will be fenced to enclose live animals roaming about, and will also contain stuffed animals typical of this area.

Wig-wags, Robin Hood and other traditional items of interest belonging to the enchantment theme will be featured in the new attraction. The puppet out-of-doors show will be replaced by a permanent closed show house.

Courtesy admission cards will be mailed all box holders in the Ute Pass communities of Cascade, Chipita Park, Green Mountain Falls and Woodland Park, in the near future, which are to be used at any time until June 15.

George Haggard of Jefferson, Texas, a summer resident of Green Mountain Falls is vice president and chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Haggard and family arrived the last of April for the season.

The Peak Treat at the crossroads of Highway 24 and Pikes Peak Highway, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Chet Buchheister, of Colorado Springs, and was occupied by the new owners on May 1, following the same hours as the former owners. The Buchheisters have one daughter, Kenzie Gail age 7.

Mr. Buchheister was formerly associated with the Spray Continental Coffee Co. of Denver, as route salesman. Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Giffin former owners, operated the Peak Treat the last eighteen months and reside in Cascade.

The Cascade Volunteer Fire Department answered a fire call with both trucks, Monday evening April 29 at 8:30 to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller on Blue Mesa. The quick action of their neighbor George Kaufman with a fire extinguisher before the trucks could arrive, probably saved the house, was the report of the fire chief, Frank Sanborn.

A pile of wood in the yard had caught fire. Fifteen members of the department answered the call with Jim Jordan and Nick Sanborn Jr. driving the trucks.

Lights were noticed at the top of Pikes Peak starting Friday evening when a crew of trucks started hauling dirt fill for the construction of the new summit house.

The Ute Pass Bible Church which is currently meeting in the Cascade firehouse recreation room, held a dedication service last Sunday morning at the regular 11 a.m. worship service. A shipment containing fifty volumes of the Worship and Service Hymnals by Hope Publishing Company of Chicago arrived last week. Song Books used previously had been loaned to the newly organized church. Rev. Paul Hutchens dedicated the hymnals with Mrs. Jane Hutchens assisting at the organ.

Mrs. Jean Sanborn, teacher of the Little Ute Nursery School, registered eight pupils present last Wednesday morning when class began at 9 o'clock. First on the schedule was free play, then songs and music with their Rhythm Band instruments including triangles, Tamborines, sticks and other noise makers. A snack of grape juice and cookies at recess was followed by the arithmetic lesson learning number 9. The three and four year old children made invitations for their mothers to come to a party on May 8, the last day of school for this term.

Adenauer Insists on Welcoming Kennedy

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—American officials have bowed reluctantly to the insistence of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that he act as host during President Kennedy's visit to West Berlin next month, informed sources said Wednesday.

In Bonn, the chancellor's press aide said Adenauer will meet

Kennedy on his arrival from Italy on June 23, welcome him again to Frankfurt on Jan. 25 and greet him in West Berlin the next day. Karl-Guenther von Hase made the announcement after conferring with White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, who is making a whirlwind dry run of Kennedy's forthcoming European tour.

Informed sources said Adenauer had insisted that he play host to Kennedy during the latter's visit to Berlin, the climax of the German leg of the presidential tour.

Obsolescence Faced By Navy, Chief Warns

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Navy Secretary Fred Korth said today the Navy may face a critical period of ship obsolescence in five years unless there is "greater recognition of our needs" in 1965 appropriations for new ships.

Korth, who arrived Wednesday on a Far Eastern tour, told newsmen the proposed 1964 budget provides for 41 new ships and 35 conversions.

'Outward Calm' Is Reported in Capital of Haiti

Duvalier's future is a critical matter for the Dominican Republic, whose first democratically elected president in three decades is facing tough inherited problems. President Juan Bosch has troops stationed at the Haitian-Dominican frontier. But nobody in Santo Domingo conversant with the crisis seems to believe that Bosch will order an invasion of Haiti—or ever intended to do so.

Apparently no direct U.S. pressure was applied against the Dominican government to head off an invasion. It is likely the U.S. government did no more than inform Bosch that Washington's policy is aimed firmly at keeping peace in the Caribbean and encourage him to place the dispute before the Organization of American States.

The OAS has come up with a resolution which could be interpreted as directing its investigators to examine the causes of the crisis.

It is unlikely that the Duvalier regime would permit that, however, and it may balk at letting OAS investigators back into Haiti. This could repeat the Haitian-Dominican crisis, which has eased somewhat in recent days.

Critical issues between Haiti and the Dominican Republic include safe conduct out of Haiti for Duvalier opponents who took asylum in the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince, the presence in Haiti of remnants of the Trujillo regime and Bosch's charge that a plot against his life was hatched in Haiti with assistance from former members of Trujillo's secret police.

The assassination charge is believed by most competent observers to be based on incontrovertible evidence that Bosch was marked for murder.

There is a large amount of concern in Santo Domingo that a prolonged crisis will bring fresh trouble for the Bosch administration, which had been doing well. There are extreme leftists, for example, in control of the Public Service Employees Federation who tried—and failed—to call a strike of all public employees this week.

With the administration and armed forces preoccupied with a long border crisis, the leftists may make new and bolder tries to harass the administration.

Hoffa Is Indicted For Attempting To Bribe Jurors

patrolman whose wife was on the payroll before the case went to the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

In dismissing the jury, Miller said he was "frankly astonished at the history of attempted jury fixing in this case" and directed the U.S. attorney to launch an investigation.

A special grand jury was empaneled Jan. 17 by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Gray Jr. The indictments were returned in a report to Gray.

Hoffa was indicted on five counts.

Indicted on single counts were:

Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327 here; Allen Dorfman, close friend of Hoffa and a Chicago insurance broker; Larry Campbell, business agent for the Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit, which Hoffa heads; Thomas E. Campbell's uncle; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va., insurance executive and president of the Continental Tobacco Co. of New York and Lawrence W. Medlin, Nashville insurance man.

The maximum penalty for attempting to influence the jury is five years in prison and a $5,000 fine on each count.

The indictment identified the two jurors toward whom approaches were directed as Gratin Fields of Nashville and Mrs. James Paschall of Woodbury. The prospective juror was James C. Tippens, Nashville insurance man.

The grand jury said King met Mrs. Paschall's husband, a highway patrolman, on a secluded road and offered help in getting him a promotion. Tippens allegedly was offered $10,000 as was Carl Fields, son of Gratin Fields.

Miller excused Tippens from the jury panel and replaces Mrs. Paschall and Fields with alternates during the trial. He said at the time there was no evidence that the jury actually was improperly influenced.

station in Australia will send a radio alarm signal to wake him. The inflatable 30-inch balloon, to be ejected on a 100-foot line during the sixth orbit, is to determine drag effect at the orbital altitude 100 to 170 miles high and to check Cooper's ability to judge distances in space.

The flashing beacon satellite, which will trail the capsule in a slightly different orbit, also will be used in a distance-judging test aimed at developing techniques for space rendezvous.

A television camera aboard Faith 7 may give American home viewers their first look at one of their astronauts in orbit.

The camera is to beam pictures of the pilot during the capsule's passes near Cape Canaveral and some photos will be converted to normal TV scan and fed as swiftly as possible into commercial networks.

Cooper will use three cameras to take movie and still photographs of stars, cloud formations, land features, zodiacal light and other space features.

Geiger counters and other measuring devices will chart the amount of radiation along the orbital path. Two high frequency radio communications tests are planned with the extendable antenna to test techniques for contacting the Gemini manned spacecraft, a future project.

The raft and shark repellent are among the survival gear Cooper will carry.

be hidden in some of the country's thousands of caves.

But apart from questioning the latest intelligence estimate of 17,500 Soviets in Cuba, the Senate group appeared to accept the professionals' judgments on the state of Cuba's ground, air and sea defenses.

Cuban army strength was listed as about 185,000, the same as before the crisis last fall. Of these, 75,000 are believed regulars and the rest militia and home guard.

The core of Soviet ground power in Cuba was said to comprise about 5,000 men in four mobile, powerfully armored units.

These Soviet army units, if coordinated with Cuban native forces, could put up tough enough opposition "to make it necessary to mount a large seaborne landing effort along with any desired airborne effort in order to be sure of success," the report said.

Another requirement would be adequate air cover, the senators said.

The United States last fall mustered five army divisions and the equivalent of nearly a Marine division for possible invasion of Cuba before the Soviets agreed to withdraw their long range missiles.

The battle plan then reportedly called for a swift and devastating air strike against missile and air bases, anti-aircraft rocket batteries and troop concentrations—following up with airborne and helicopter assaults.

The Senate report indicated the Soviets are retaining control of the heaviest hardware, anti-aircraft missiles, coastal defense missiles and probably 42 late model MIG-17 jet fighters.

For the first time, it was said flatly that the Soviet navy operates 12 highspeed patrol boats, each armed with a pair of missiles with a range of up to 15 miles.

"These boats are under Soviet control, but Cubans are believed to have been observed aboard them," the investigators said.

Three Military Establishments Restrict Water

ning unattended for more than 20 minutes.

Paulsen said additional restrictions include no watering at any quarters unless the occupants are at home or have made arrangements to have water supervised.

More than 20 minutes of watering is considered wasteful for the type of hybrid grass planted at Ft. Carson, Paulsen said. The grass is selected for its drought-resisting qualities.

Any exceptions which have to be made must be approved by the post agronomist, Clifton Barr.

According to Paulsen, most shrubs, and lawns are well-established and able to withstand long periods of drought.

In many cases, too much watering can be harmful to plants, Paulsen said.

At Ent AFB, which also is on the city's water system, the base civil engineer's office today announced that persons noting excessive water runoff should report violations to that office, phone 635-2911, extensions 6665, 6755 or 6795.

"I said you can't arrest me and that I haven't done anything and then he took out his gun. I didn't realize what was happening. I had the feeling I was being held up."

"My roommate picked up the phone and called up police headquarters to tell them there was a man in the room with a gun. Then he realized he was being absurd and he hung up and ran out for help."

"Meanwhile I yelled down below for someone to go get the master of the college."

"He put the gun away and walked out to the living room. Then I came in and there was a long argument."

Dominick said the policeman left after a faculty member arrived and settled the matter. There were no arrests.

there were no massive demonstrations Thursday. Earlier demonstrations resulted in the arrests of approximately 2,400 and use of fire hoses and police dogs to disperse Negro crowds.

The Negro leaders had called a truce Wednesday while the bi-racial committee worked for a solution.

King had said at a news conference shortly after noon Thursday that agreement had been reached, he said then, provided for desegregation of lunch counters and other public facilities in the downtown stores, and improvement of job opportunities for Negroes.

The other two points sought were demands that charges against the 2,400 arrested be dropped, and for the formation of an official committee of Negroes and white persons to deal with racial problems.

Shortly after King's comment Thursday night that only minor details remained to be worked out, his top aide, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, said there appeared to be some misunderstanding about what King meant.

He said King issued this statement to clarify it:

"Things are almost worked out, but there are still some last-minute details to be dealt with. He did not say what details."

Mayor Albert Boutwell and the man he defeated for the post in a recent election, Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor, said they were not committed to any agreement worked out by the bi-racial committee.

purchase feed grain owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation at 75 per cent of the support rate.

This program is limited to dairy and breeding cattle and sheep. Feed grain for all other livestock (yearlings and feeder steers) would be purchased at support rate under the emergency program.

Leslie McCurdy, chairman of the El Paso County USDA Disaster Committee, said his committee estimates that 75,753 hay-consuming animals are in the county. If the emergency feed program is not approved by the USDA, the committee estimates that the livestock will be reduced as much as 50 per cent.

Forest McWilliams, El Paso County agent, said today that livestock owners may contact his office for drought emergency tips booklets prepared by Colorado State University.

While awaiting word from Washington, McWilliams advises livestock owners to consider culling their herds and keeping only their strongest and most valuable animals. He said fleshy animals can lose weight without affecting their productivity and that all cattle should be kept strong, not necessarily fat.

"It is possible that some of the cattlemen will get together and arrange for hay to be shipped in from the North Platte (Nebraska) Valley area," McWilliams said. "There just isn't any hay to be bought in this or nearby counties."

Probers Say $7.5 Million U.S. Bonds Were Stolen

the lackadaisical and inept handling of the search for the securities.

The Treasury will be rapped for inexplicably failing to promptly and forcefully use all federal and local resources to uncover what had happened to the bonds.

The Federal Reserve Board will be castigated for (1) secretizing the loss of the bonds for more than six months, and (2) failing to notify other banks to be on watch for them. San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank officials will be blasted for the astonishing lack of security that prevailed there in the handling of bonds running into the hundreds of millions.

A retired custodian of the bond vault told the investigators he could have walked out with half its contents.

At the time the securities disappeared, he was vacationing in Reno, Nev.

COME AND GET IT

This startling disclosure was brought to light by Rep. Charles Vanik, D-Ohio, in questioning Clarence Bertram, vault custodian who retired last November after more than 41 years' service. Following is their revealing discussion:

Vanik: "When you left your vault every day, were you subject to any examination or scrutiny by anyone in the bank?"

Bertram: "No."

Vanik: "You could walk out of the bank with almost anything?"

Bertram: "With half of the vault in my pocket."

Vanik: "And no one would have stopped you or questioned you?"

Bertram: "No."

Vanik: "There was no one on duty to question you or scrutinize you?"

Bertram: "No."

Vanik: "So you could walk right out of the bank without any inquiry at all?"

Bertram: "Yes."

Eliot J. Swan, president of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, placed the disappearance of the $7.5 million in negotiable federal bonds as between May 29 and Aug. 8—the dates when they were deposited and then asked for by another Reserve bank.

But the loss was kept secret until this March. Several weeks ago this column revealed that the story was then leaked by the Federal Reserve to a hand-picked San Francisco newsman when Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, got wind of the affair and demanded a full explanation.

During a routine study of the minutes of the New York Federal Reserve directors, Patman came across a notation that the bank was absorbing part of a $7.5 million loss caused by the destruction of government securities in the San Francisco bank. This write-off was approved by the New York directors as Reserve banks pro-rate members' losses.

Asking questions about this curious matter, Patman learned the bonds actually were "missing," and that a quiet Treasury investigation had produced no evidence to back the claim they had been "accidentally burned."

To get at the bottom of the mystery, Patman appointed the three-member subcommittee headed by Reuss.

The probers have ascertained that when the Treasury and Federal Reserve finally "invited" the Secret Service into the case, only three agents were assigned to it.

Also that a private company was employed by the Secret Service to give lie detector tests to 18 bank employees. These polygraph examinations took place between Aug. 27 and Sept. 25, and drew a blank, according to the report of Thomas Hansen, special agent in charge of the San Francisco office.

That was the end of the Secret Service inquiry.

The FBI has never been brought into the case—albeit it has followed it closely.

Even before the House investigators have submitted their preliminary report, Chairman Reuss has bluntly told Federal Reserve officials he is unable to understand their seeming casualness. He made no bones of being highly critical of their lack of concern and action.

"I am not at all impressed with the investigation that was made by the Secret Service," Reuss told the Reserve bankers. "I feel that any loss involving the very considerable amount of $7.5 million in securities requires that every resource of both the federal government and local police authority be brought in."

"The help that local authorities, the FBI and other agencies might have provided in tracing a possible solution of the disappearance of these bonds could have been extremely helpful. I cannot feel satisfied that the brief and casual investigation that was made was complete or handled in a manner I would consider satisfactory on the basis of the testimony that was submitted."

Since the mysterious disappearance of the $7.5 million in negotiable bonds from its vaults, the San Francisco Reserve Bank has issued written instructions on how securities are to be handled. Previously, no instructions existed.

As retired custodian Bertram testified, it was possible to walk out of the vault "with half of it in my pocket."

Obesity Patients Learn Old Ways to Reduce

By ROBERT M. BURNETT
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patients in an obesity research program at Wadsworth Veterans Hospital have found the one way to lose weight—quit eating. They starve, they shed pounds by the hundreds—and they get well.

Dr. Ernst J. Drenick, section chief of internal medicine, started the program two years ago as a method of weight reduction for persons suffering from other ailments.

Of the 12 persons who have started their way to better health at Wadsworth, Elaine Johnson holds the record for fasting time. The former WAVE, 39, has not eaten since she went on Dr. Drenick's nonfood diet 101 days ago. She tipped the scales then at a hefty 315 pounds and wore a size 50 dress.

Today she's down to a relatively trim 200, wears a 40 and hopes to lose another 50 pounds or so. She came to the hospital for treatment of high blood pressure.

"I'll starve as long as the doctor lets me," she said.

Patients taking the course are allowed all the way they want and get a twice-weekly ration of vitamins.

Record for weight loss is held by a man who dropped 200 of his 470 pounds, simply by not eating.

But Dr. Drenick's biggest challenge to date is Leland Poe, 38, who packed 500 pounds on his 6-7 frame when they carried him into the hospital about two weeks ago.

Poe now weighs 444 and has lost 10 pounds in the past two days. His goal is to get down to 230 within the next six months.

"I was like a bear going into hibernation," Poe recalled. I was sleepy and hungry for the first four days but now my body has changed and I'm living off the fat and food that I've stored up over the years.

"And there's still a lot here," he observed.

Upper Colorado Area Governors Plan to Confer

By GORDON G. GAUSS

DENVER (AP)—Governors of the four Upper Colorado River Basin states will meet in Denver May 29, partly to initiate a defense organization in case states in the lower basing of the river begin new litigation over the meaning of the 40-year-old Colorado River Compact.

The upper basin states are Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Wyoming. Lower basin states are California, Arizona and Nevada. The upper basin governors also will consider taking a joint stand on appropriations for water development and reclamation projects now before Congress.

The plan for the meeting came to light during a one-day session of the Colorado Water Conservation Board in Denver Wednesday. It was disclosed by Felix L. Sparks, Colorado director of natural resources, who said Gov. John Love of Colorado had taken the lead in calling the meeting.

"We expect litigation among all seven states in the basin in the immediate future," Sparks said, but gave no further details. "Some system is needed for obtaining counsel to defend ourselves."

Upper and lower basin states frequently have been at odds over interpretations of the compact and clashes have become more numerous since heavy development of the upper reaches of the river started.

The water conservation board also gave planners a free hand to go ahead with discussions of linking water to be diverted into eastern Colorado from the Western Slope under the Homestake and Frypan-Arkansas transmountain diversion projects.

This action came when the board tabled a resolution by Frank Delaney of Glenwood Springs which would have halted utility of the Eagle River, across consideration of the plan. Leonard Kuiper, acting director domestic use. The Frypan-Arkansas of the water board, emphasized to Kansas, a major development project a reporter that the board's action set already approved by Congress in no way commits it to favoring will take water from the Frypan-Arkansas plan—it only keeps open the door for discussion.

He said it would not increase diversions from the Western Slope and might result in generation of more electricity.

The Homestake plan is a venture of the cities of Colorado Springs and Aurora to bring water from Homestake Creek, a tributary of the river.

Architect Is Told To Redesign Gymnasium

DENVER (UPI)—An Alamosa architect must redesign a proposed gymnasium at Adams State College free for the state, the director of state planning ruled Wednesday.

William M. Williams said the architect, Joe Wilson, must redesign the project to keep its cost within the appropriation by the legislature "at no additional expense" to the state.

Gov. John Love refused to sign a contract for $1.7 million earlier, and said the project must be "redesigned for construction and equipping within the appropriation made," which was $1.6 million.

The 1962 legislature appropriated the money for the project, but the lowest bid was more than $1.7 million. Williams said Wilson's plans already drawn would have meant a total cost of more than $2 million, including equipment.

Wilson already has been paid $62,000 for his work—75 per cent of his fee figured on the basis of 6 per cent of an earlier estimate of a total cost of $1.38 million.

Show of London To Leave Out Tourist Cliches

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When Elizabeth Taylor, an American motion picture actress, gets around to showing her native city, London, to television viewers next season, there won't be a tourist cliché shown, the producers assured us.

"I suppose we'll see Liz Taylor in the Poet's Corner, Liz Taylor setting her watch by Big Ben, Liz Taylor borrowing a pound from the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," ventured your reporter eagerly.

Norman Baer and Phil D'Antoni who dreamed up "Elizabeth Taylor's London" and sold it to Miss Taylor, a sponsor and the CBS network inside of four days, looked disdainful.

"Absolutely not," replied D'Antoni firmly. "You won't see any of those tired old things."

Baer and D'Antoni have been in network broadcasting for several years, and formed a television packaging company about three months ago.

"We want to produce specials, and we worked on several ideas," explained Baer. "Then we thought of the London show. There were really only two people who would have been perfect to do it."

"Elizabeth Taylor or Elizabeth T," asked your reporter.

"No," said Baer. "Miss Taylor or Princess Margaret. We asked Miss Taylor first and she accepted."

The producers air-mailed some material directly to the actress, who immediately invited them to talk it over.

D'Antoni flew to London and wrapped up the deal. Neither partner will say how much Miss Taylor will receive for the hour-long special but indicated that $400,000 was a most conservative figure.

"She felt that a television tour of London had great educational value," explained D'Antoni.

The filming of the show is expected to start the end of this month, to be finished by the end of June. They have hired an English camera crew, including one photographer who has made a specialty of photographing women. And in color.

Jack Paar and Ken Murray obviously have started something with their home movies. Now ABC in the United States.

plans a summer replacement show for "The Rifleman," which will feature home movies and amateur moviemakers. It starts July 8, with George Fenneman, late of the Groucho Marx programs as host.

ABC will pre-empt a re-run of "Cheyenne" Friday night (7:30-8:30 EDT) for an interview of Fidel Castro by reporter Lisa Howard, made in Havana a couple of weeks ago. There will be also interpretive commentary by Sens. Hubert Humphrey D-Minn. and Kenneth Keating R-N.Y.

E. D. Stone Tells AJLA It Must Create Beauty, Culture

Architect Edward Durell Stone, who has cast in steel his contributions to the culture of succeeding generations, reminded non-artists of the world that they have a similar duty.

In an address delivered Thursday to the Junior League Conference Mr. Stone declared that all of us have an "obligation to create an environment of beauty and cultural heritage worthy of our generation, and good enough to permit future generations to enjoy it with pride." His remarks were made at a banquet in the Broadmoor Hotel where some 300 young women are taking part in the 41st annual conference of the Association of the Junior Leagues of America.

The national conference, which began on May 5 and included workshops, business meetings and the election of Association officers, will close today.

In outlining his credo for accumulating cultural assets for generations yet to be, Mr. Stone warned his audience not to adhere too closely to commonly-accepted maxims which praise progress and modernity. For example, he admonished his listeners to "be ware of progress," for "progress invariably means that you sacrifice something good for something less attractive." In like manner he noted that "being modern simply consists of closing your mind to 2500 years of Western culture." On the other hand he encouraged lovers of aesthetics to "go to bat for beauty... seek inspiration... and keep an open mind."

In other words, Mr. Stone said, we must establish a set of val-

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise:
Here is a simple dessert that is delicious and inexpensive:
Open can of apple sauce and use your egg beater to beat it until it is fluffy.
This may be seasoned with nutmeg or cinnamon. After it is fluffy and put in little dessert dishes it may be topped with whipped cream or a cherry! And if you cut the cherries in half, they go "exactly" twice as far!
I never waste cherry juice. I either put it in the whipped cream once in a while or mix the cherry juice with the apple sauce when beating it. This makes it pink and gives it an entirely different taste. What more can we have for so little? —T. L. W.

You are a corker. Cherry juice in apple sauce is tops! —Heloise
Dear Heloise:
Don't laugh.
I have brittle fingernails and must wear rubber gloves when doing dishes, laundry etc. I pull off little pieces of cotton and saturate them with my favorite fingernail oil and drop one in each fingertip and "leave" it there. Now I don't have to oil my nails every night. —Shirley

Dear Heloise:
How does one remove the scratch from teak wood? Even the furniture store does not know how to keep it looking new or what type of wax to use on it. —Teak Owner

Dear T. L.
After much research, three teak dealers (one an Oriental from the old country) tell us that a scratch may be removed by rubbing it gently with oooo steel wool, then applying "equal" amounts of linseed oil and turpentine. Rub this in well.
We are also informed from all three sources that waxing or polishing is not necessary on genuine teak furniture.
Genuine teak is loaded with its own natural oil. They recommend only polishing it with a cloth which has been dampened with equal parts of turpentine and linseed oil. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When I am painting, I always stretch a "heavy" rubber band or cord across the open top of my paint can. This allows for a place to gently wipe the brush each time I dip for paint; therefore, keeps the paint from dripping down the side of my small paint can.
When it comes time to put the lid back on the can of paint you won't find any of it in the grooves to spatter as you replace the lid and pound it down! —C. H. D.

Dear Heloise:
When I am making a baked macaroni and cheese casserole... I add one chicken bouillon cube and it changes the whole aspect! —Faithful reader.

Dear Heloise:
To make a strong dishcloth... I save up all of the string from my packages and make a ball and then crochet this string into the proper size dishcloth. —Alice Spertizers

This is really... a dilly! —Heloise

SOUL 'SICKNESS'
NASHVILLE (AP) — "Race prejudice is a sickness of the soul," the Rev. Edward A. McDowell, a professor at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, told a Southern Baptist meeting here.

"The tragedy of our situation in the South is that for the most part our people do not realize that they are the victims of spiritual sickness in accepting and perpetuating unChristian racial patterns," he said, adding that the sickness, he said, damages "the souls of white and black."

Roses will stay in bud longer if the ends of their cut stems are singed with a lighted match before placing them in water.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Give Him Credit

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says, "Honey, I don't know what to get you for Mother's Day. Here is $20—go buy yourself something?" I felt so bad I cried all night. —WET PILLOW

DEAR WET: Your husband may not have much imagination, but at least he remembered, and he put his money where his mouth was. I hope you never have anything more serious to cry about.

DEAR ABBY: I was married before and so was my husband. We've now been married three years and are very happy. I happened to mention that I had two graves here in Pittsburgh, bought and paid for. He said when he dies he wants to go back to West Virginia. Now, he left West Virginia years ago because he didn't like it, so how come he wants to go back there to be buried? I told him we belonged together and he said if I felt that way about it I'd be buried in West Virginia with him. I don't care anything about West Virginia. I want to be buried in Pittsburgh. I am 37 and he is 39, which is too young to be worrying about this, of course, but I would like to get it settled. What is your opinion? —PLOT PROBLEM

DEAR PLOT: Does "he" have plots bought and paid for in West Virginia? If not, he might just as well get down to earth in Pittsburgh.

DEAR ABBY: Is yawning a sign of physical tiredness? Or is it a sign of boredom? —CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: It can be either, or both. It's usually an involuntary opening of the mouth when you wish others would shut theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Babe": If you want to find out what makes him tick, meet his wife. She could be the whole works!

West's lack of alertness in today's hand permitted the declarer to steal a game contract from under his very eyes.

South's jump to three notrump was perhaps a shade aggressive since he hoped however that his double spade stopper plus the fitting honor in partner's hearts might serve to round out the trick total to the required number for a game.

West led the queen of spades which was taken by declarer's king. South saw at once that, even if the heart finesse succeeded, he could run only eight tricks without surrendering the lead. If he tried to set up a ninth by dislodging the ace of diamonds, however, the opponents could surely take enough club tricks to set the contract.

South felt that his best chance was to steal a diamond trick before the defense was fully alerted, so at trick two he led the ten of diamonds from his hand in the manner of one who was about to take a finesse. West hastened to follow with the deuce of diamonds and declarer's ten won the trick. South now switched his attention to the heart suit and, when West's queen appeared on the second lead, nine tricks were taken with dispatch and the balance cheerfully conceded.

East contended that West should have been highly suspicious of declarer's failure to start in on the hearts immediately and that, when the diamond was led, his partner should have hastened to run in with his ace and switch to a club as the only hope to defeat the contract. We are heartily in accord with East's point of view. West's heart holding should make it clear that the hearts were ready to run, for if declarer lacked the king he would assuredly develop first the suit which must provide the bulk of his tricks. Since South is seeking a ninth trick in diamonds, he cannot have the ace of clubs, and the suggested procedure for West becomes transparently obvious.

LEAVE TO THEOLOGAINS WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Both friends and foes of birth control should stop trying to win legislative backing for their views, the Rev. John A. O'Brien, Notre Dame research theologian, told a meeting here. "Each side has tried to force its belief on the other via legislation. Theologians should debate the matter—not politicians, sheriffs, judges or police officers."

West Virginia's spring football roster included 25 players from the state of Pennsylvania.

Former Football Player Works as 'Housekeeper'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dan Fraad Jr. does not fit into the traditional picture of the housekeeper. He is a former Brown University football player, onetime instructor at Yale, ex-window washer.

And one of the world's biggest housekeepers. It is difficult for the Manhattanite to get beyond the reach of Fraad's activities. He is president of Allied Maintenance, a muscular, expanding corporation which did $300,000 in gross volume of business in 1957 and now is working at the estimated rate of $650 million in the current fiscal year.

Allied Maintenance is just what its name implies. It is devoted to taking care of buildings, industrial plants, transportation terminals, airports, ballparks, shopping centers, stores.

Should a New Yorker go to work in the new Pan American Building here he would be up a property cared for by Fraad's concern. Leaving Idlewild on a business or vacation flight, he would be in a plane fueled by Allied and from an airport kept clean by Allied crews. If he watched the Yankees, he would be seated in a stadium where maintenance is Allied's charge.

Work in Atomic Disposal
One of Fraad's latest ventures is in the field of atomic waste disposal. Radioactive material can't be tossed into a city dump or chucked openly into the sea; disposal of it is a separate project. Allied at present is conducting seminar courses for men who will superintend the various aspects of this activity. It has a special resistant uniform, equipped with a radiation counter, for men who will work in exposed areas.

"We're growing in old fields—the care of buildings and the like—and we are growing in new areas, with a more scientific approach to old problems," Fraad said in an interview.

"Yes, we have new fields into which we plan to expand—but I won't tell you what they are," he continued. "But maybe you'll understand what we think lies ahead if you'll note that we recently called in a management consultant firm to help plan organization for a future that will see $100 million annual gross."

The inherent strength of an organization like Allied's, Fraad explained, was in its ability to take over completely all maintenance problems of a building or a store or a business, from keeping the heating plant in operation to changing bulbs in the light fixtures.

"Companies turn to us because they don't want the bother of chores like this," he said. "We go about it scientifically and after studying their problems thoroughly. Our organization is built on its corps of superintendents, men we train ourselves; we have a six months' course, with an evaluation of each man every two weeks. It washes a lot of them out."

"Right now, we're expanding the program in preparation for the World's Fair to open here next year. We'll need from 2,500 to 3,000 persons to care for that, and we're building up the staff."

Railroad Was First Client
Allied's first contract customer, back in 1938, was the Pennsylvania Railroad. It "hired out" the job of cleaning and fueling the kerosene lamps. The railroad is still Allied's customer, but the big fueling operation done by Allied no longer is in the railroad lamp field.

"We still deal in kerosene," smiled Fraad. "But it's the jet fuel at places like Idlewild or the new Dulles Airport at Washington. Our organization pumps more than a billion gallons of aviation gas a year. In fact, one of our men designed the first special airport gasoline truck years ago—and the basic design still is in use."

Despite the most careful planning, Fraad said, it is sometimes the most commonplace operations that present an unexpected maintenance hurdle. At Gander Airport in Newfoundland everything looked shipshape — except no provision had been made there for washing the dishes used on aircraft.

Allied has 150 different labor contracts in its widespread operations. "We've had only two strikes—both wildcats—in the history of the company," said Fraad. "And in one of those, it was by a labor group which had been poorly handled by the former management of a company which we had just taken over."

"Nobody ever made any dough out of being 'cute' with labor."

U.S. Posts New Warning Against Mid-East Strife

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has posted a new warning against aggression in the rest of the Middle East, pledging swift U.S. counteraction in an effort to reassure both Israel and the Arab states.

In a five-point policy statement at his news conference Wednesday the President, however, ignored specific proposals made in Congress for a formal U.S. treaty to guarantee Israeli-Arab frontiers.

"In the event of aggression or preparation for aggression whether direct or indirect," Kennedy said, "we would support appropriate measures in the United Nations (and) adopt other courses of operation on our own to prevent or put a stop to such aggression which, of course, has been the policy which the United States has followed for some time."

Two developments in the Middle East have created concern in Washington and in Israeli government circles in recent weeks. One is the recent decision by Egypt, Syria and Iraq to form the United Arab Republic. Coupled with this have been demonstrations in Jordan against the government of King Hussein and in favor of the Arab unity movement headed by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The other development over a longer period of time has been Nasser's program of arming Egypt with modern weapons including rockets reportedly being built with the aid of German and other European scientists.

These two developments have aroused fresh fears in Israel of an eventual Arab military effort to smash Israel. The danger has been discussed publicly and some days ago Prime Minister David Ben Gurion informally suggested either a U.S. guarantee or a U.S.-Soviet guarantee of Israel's frontiers.

U.S. policy makers say privately that this country intends to avoid any action in the uneasy situation which would seem to put the United States definitely on either side in the controversy.

Officials here say that Israel has the most effective military force in the area and they expect this situation to continue indefinitely. They cited the fact that the United States agreed last fall to sell Hawk missiles to Israel as a means of helping to preserve the power balance between that country and the Arab states. So far no missiles have actually been delivered but authorities said the deal is going thru on schedule.

The President outlined these five points of basic policy under which the United States:

Supports social, economic and political progress in the area.

Supports "the security of both Israel and her neighbors."

Seeks "to limit the Near East arms race which obviously takes resources from an area already poor and does not really bring any great security."

Strongly opposes "the use of force or the threat of force" in the area.

Seeks "to limit the spread of communism in the Middle East which would, of course, destroy the independence of the people."

CRITICIZE WEST'S ATTITUDE
STRASBOURG, France (UPI)—A conference of the Captive Nations of Europe Sunday bitterly attacked the West for its "prudent and conciliatory" attitude toward the Communist world.

Former Lithuanian diplomat Vaclovas Siziakauskas told the gathering of Iron Curtain exiles that the West hope for a "liberalizing process" in Eastern Europe but there was no sign this was happening.

Allott Proposes Re-Evaluation of Mohole Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., told the Senate here an independent team of scientists should evaluate the award of the multi-million-dollar prime contract for Project Mohole to a Houston, Tex., construction firm. Mohole is the research project to drill three miles underseas through the earth's surface, deeper than man ever has probed before. Brown and Root, the Houston firm, was named prime contractor for the project in February last year. Allott said he never had been able to get firm information from the National Science Foundation why it picked the company. He said there had been "a year of fumbling" on the project since that time and that "Brown and Root still has no plan." He told his colleagues that about $4 million had been spent so far but that an evaluation should be made even if it meant this went "down the drain." This would be better than jeopardizing a valuable research effort that may eventually cost $100 million Allott declared. The congressman said it seemed clear to him that, on the basis of the criteria established by the foundation, "Any other firm which was being considered was more capable" than Brown and Root. He said that the Houston firm was a great construction concern but that its experience in scientific research projects was very limited.

Allott said he supported Mohole and wanted it to succeed but that, on the basis of the present situation, he felt it might turn out to be "a $100 million boondoggle." The senator said that Ocean Science & Engineering, Inc., hired by NSF as a scientific adviser for the project, had made many criticisms of Brown and Root but then had its contract summarily cancelled by the foundation. He said he wanted to know whether "the arm of Brown and Root is so long and powerful they can reach into the National Science Foundation" and force such an action. The 1963 roster of Mrs. America candidates have been married for an average of 12.2 years.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE CATHARTIC HABIT

Many oldsters have spent a lifetime fighting the battle of constipation because of the laxative habit. It is difficult to determine whether they ought to continue as before or try for more natural movements. In my opinion, they should follow the line of least resistance and continue with the laxative, provided it is not irritating the intestine.

Most of these men and women have used a variety of cathartics. It is the same old story: Constipated today; a laxative tomorrow. This results in emptying the entire bowel. No stool on the following day because there is nothing to pass. The man then regards himself as constipated and the cycle repeats itself. The regular use of a massive colonic irrigation is even more vicious. Such practices remove completely the desire to let nature take its course.

There are other causes of constipation among the aged. The muscles involved in the act of defecation may lose their tone with the passing years. In many instances, this follows or becomes more noticeable after a prolonged illness or because of obesity. Poor dietary habits or lack of teeth may reduce the amount of bulk consumed. An inadequate fluid intake also plays a role. The older also is prone to neglect the signal that a movement is in order. In time, the reflex is lost and constipation ensues.

Most constipated individuals have no distress except gas or a feeling of fullness. Others develop a dull ache in the lower abdomen. Headaches and dizziness are noted occasionally but these symptoms are not the result of auto-intoxication, or the absorption of poisons from the intestine as once was thought.

No one dies of ordinary constipation but the older should not ignore the condition, especially if two or three days elapse without a movement. There always is a possibility of an impaction of that hardened material will aggravate rectal disorders such as hemorrhoids. A suppository or small enema usually does the trick. Thereafter, an attempt should be made to correct the cause.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflets on constipation if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Tomorrow: Faintness and low blood sugar.

BOARDER LIKES GARLIC
L. P. writes: I board an elderly man who insists on eating raw garlic every night because he thinks it helps hardening of the arteries. I'm much against this practice because it smells up the house. Does garlic really affect arteriosclerosis?

Reply
No, but you might find it difficult to convince your boarder, especially if he is Italian or Greek.

Newspaper Carrier
J. P. writes: Is it possible to get the flu from reading a newspaper that was handled by a flu victim who wet her fingers to turn the pages?

Reply
Yes, but the chances are remote. It is easier to get the disease from being in the same room with the flu victim who is coughing and sneezing.

Can't Take Thyroid
W. K. writes: Why is it some people can't tolerate thyroid tablets after a thyroid operation?

Reply
Because they may not need them. In such instances, enough thyroid tissue remains to maintain normal metabolism.

Baldness Inherited
I. V. writes: Is baldness due to anxiety and hypertension?

Reply
No. The majority of male baldies can blame their ancestors.

Today's Health Hint
The older who has dizzy spells should get out of bed carefully and slowly.

WARREN H. SMITH

Warren Smith All-Time Parade Champ

Everybody loves a parade but Warren H. Smith has got to be among the all-time champs in this field.

For the past 32 years, Smith has volunteered to take on a job which would turn most men blue with frustration and most youngsters green with envy.

Smith, thru the years, has coordinated a total of 40 parades in Colorado Springs and, Saturday, thousands of area residents will have a chance to see the job he has done on his 41st parade—the annual Armed Forces Day parade.

His job will be to see that the marchers take their proper positions in the parade.

Every man and piece of equipment in the parade, it is responsibility, so to speak. It will be up to Smith to make sure that when the parade finally gets moving, it will come out in that long, exciting line that everybody loves to watch go by.

Smith started his extra-curricular career as parade coordinator when he was named to a committee planning the Colorado Springs 1960 Armistice Day celebration.

He represented the Disabled American Veterans (the served in World War I). Others on the committee were from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He has seen Armistice Day become Veterans Day and Army Day become Armed Forces Day. Memorial Day parades, too, have come within his scope.

For the past number of years, since the Chamber of Commerce through the Chamber's Military Affairs Committee.

Smith is employed at Fort Carson.

An Iowa boy by birth, he came to Colorado Springs in 1924 for his health. Now there is quite a Warren H. Smith clan here. He and his wife, five of their six children, and the greater part of their 21 grandchildren all live in the Pikes Peak area.

The parade Smith lives at 1419 N. Wahsatch Ave.

'Bye Bye Birdie' To Be Staged By Cheyenne HS

Cheyenne Mountain Senior High School will present the Broadway musical, "Bye Bye Birdie," today and Saturday in the junior high school auditorium on Cheyenne Boulevard.

Curtain time both nights is 8 p.m. Tickets are available in the high school office for $1. No standees will be allowed.

The story involves a teenage girl, president of the national "Conrad Birdie Fan Club," who is picked by the rock and roll singer's flacks to give her old one last kiss before he is inducted into the army.

The gay musical score includes the hit songs "One Boy," "Kids" and "Put on a Happy Face."

The performance offers one special feature: One scene calls for the imitation of television Ed Sullivan's voice, and so Cheyenne students wrote Sullivan asking him to tape his voice for the "Bye Bye Birdie" score. Sullivan obliged, and the tape he returned will be used in both performances.

Firemen Called To Small Blaze

The Colorado Springs Fire Department reported putting out a small fire behind a stove in the Village Inn, 217 E. Pike's Peak Ave., this morning.

Company 1 sent a truck to the scene. There was no damage.

Police Seek Man Who Accosted Girl

Police are searching for a man who accosted a 16-year old girl as she walked home Thursday night.

The girl told police that when she informed the man she was nearing her home, he grabbed her and slipped his arm around her head, covering her mouth with his hand.

"If you scream, I will kill you," the girl told police the man said. She said that she either bit the man or kicked him, she couldn't remember, and he released his hold. She screamed and ran off, police reports said.

The man had come up to the girl and asked if he could walk with her and tried to start a conversation. The girl said she kept telling the man to go away and leave her alone, but he persisted until she informed him she was almost home.

He was described as being about 20 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, a strong build, with light brown hair and wearing black trousers and a white pullover sweater.

PRESENT FACILITIES SHOWN—The Freedom School, whose present facilities north of Colorado Springs are shown in this aerial view, announced this morning that it had acquired 206 more acres, bringing the total expanse to 526 acres. The new land lies to the south and east of the present property, off the bottom left corner of the picture. Most of it is relatively level ground, fronting on Perry Park Road (State Highway 105). The land will be used for the expansion of Freedom School facilities and also, presumably, for the proposed

Red Devils Get Comforts of Home During Exercise

Ft. Carson's Red Diamond troops in the field on Exercise COULEE CREST have some of the comforts of home thanks to the 513th Quartermaster Company of Ft. Hood, Texas.

Commanded by Captain Henry Skeen, the company is providing direct support to the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) during the big STRIKE Command maneuvers in Washington.

Infantrymen and tankers, wilted from the swirling dust of Yakima Firing Center enjoy the 513th's top service—from a hot shower to new soles and heels for their boots.

"We can run about 200 men per hour thru the bath unit," said Lt. Ralph R. Mayer, 513th operations officer. "Overall we can take care of 16,000 troops."

A STRAC unit with participation in five major field exercises in the last year, the quartermaster unit includes a laundry and bath platoon, and a maintenance platoon.

It's here that the Red Devils get their boots reeled as a combat service. "Next to his weapon, his boots are the most important thing to a front line soldier," explained Mayer.

The mobile quartermaster unit, with more field time behind them than many line units, flew to Larson Air Force from Ft. Hood for Exercise COULEE CREST.

Water Project Bid Openings Set May 29

The first bids for construction of the multi-million dollar Homestake water project will be opened at 2 p.m. May 29 in the office of the city manager in Aurora.

City Manager John M. Biery of Colorado Springs said the work involved is construction of a 3.75 mile access road from Gold Park to Homestake Lake in Eagle County.

Colorado Springs and the City of Aurora will share an estimated 74,000 acre feet of water annually in the development of Homestake Creek and other tributaries of the Eagle River northwest of Leadville.

Later this month, the city manager said, bids will be advertised for the drilling of a 5½-mile tunnel under the Continental Divide from a point near Turquoise Lake north west of Leadville to Homestake Lake.

Construction on the road job should get under way in June and on the tunnel in early July.

Plans and specifications for the road construction are available at the city engineer's office in Aurora and at the Colorado Springs Department of Public Utilities, as well as from the consulting engineers, Bechtel Inc.

While the complete development of the Homestake project will take 15 to 20 years, the first water in the trans-mountain diversion will be available to Colorado Springs and Aurora in 1966.

The Homestake water will eventually be pumped over Trout Creek Pass into South Park. From a point near Eleven Mile Reservoir, the Colorado Springs share will be pumped to an enlarged reservoir on the Northfield watershed, after which it will be sent into the municipal distribution system. The Aurora share will go down the South Platte River.

Once the Homestake project has been fully developed and the city is getting its 10,000 acre feet of water each year from the Frypan-Arkansas project, Colorado Springs should be able to supply water to a quarter of a million persons, provided precipitation is on a near-normal basis.

Taken were a polaroid land camera with a winklight, two rolls of polaroid film and an Argus camera.

Using the theme "Power for Peace," the parade will form at the intersection of Vermijo Street and Nevada Avenue and move north on Nevada Avenue to Platte Avenue, west on Platte to Tejon Street, then south on Tejon back to Vermijo where it will disband.

The reviewing stand for the parade will be erected at the intersection of Pikes Peak Avenue and Tejon Street.

Leading the parade will be Navy Medal of Honor winner Capt. David McCampbell, assistant deputy chief of staff for operations at the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD).

Directly behind him will be the grand marshal, Col. Peterson.

Immediately following the parade, the Presidians and the Rockcliffe Pipe Band will form in front of the Antler's Hotel and perform while civil and military dignitaries gather for the annual Armed Forces Day luncheon set for noon in the Terrace Room.

'Political Resentment' Seen In Reapportionment Study

El Paso and Pueblo Counties supported the Federal Reapportionment Plan in the November election out of "political resentment toward Denver and its suburbs," although they apparently would have gained more by adoption of the Voter plan, according to a recent survey.

This is one of the conclusions reported Friday by six Colorado College political science students who spent the winter studying reapportionment in seven southern Colorado counties.

Max Power, a senior from Denver, said in a summary report to the Rocky Mountain Center for Education in Politics that Huerfano, Las Animas, Baca, Bent and Prowers Counties also resented the political power of the Denver area — But stood to gain nothing by the Voter plan.

"It was generally agreed that the Voter Plan would give more power to high populated areas such as Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Denver," Powers said, "and the Federal plan would benefit the rural areas."

"Despite this," he said, "voters in Pueblo and El Paso counties voted with the rural counties out of political resentment toward Denver and its suburbs."

More than 35 community leaders in the seven counties were interviewed during the past three months by the Colorado College students under a grant from the Rocky Mountain Center for Education in Politics.

Other conclusions reported by Power were that: Democrats now have a good chance to capture two out of five house seats in El Paso County. It previously was necessary to win a majority in the traditionally Republican county.

Emerging Republican strength in the Pueblo suburban areas in dictate that the redistricting of Pueblo County may enable the GOP to take two out of four house seats and one of two in the senate.

Colorado College students reporting on various aspects of the report were Walter D. Helms of 9816 Ensley Lane, Leawood, Kan.; Gail Lundgren of 844 Woodland Ave., Kailspell, Mont.; David G. Nixon of 2519 Prairie, Colorado Springs; Cornelius G. Strakosh of 101 Georgian Ct. Rd., Rochester, N.Y.; William R. Ward of 325 Dittmer, Pueblo; and Robert K. Edmondson of 263 S. Pershing, Wichita, Kan.

Royal Air Force Marshal Visits Air Academy

Sir Thomas Pike, marshal of the Royal Air Force, will wind up a two-day visit to the Colorado Springs area today.

Sir Thomas, as Marshal of the RAF and Chief of Staff of the Air Ministry, holds a position equivalent to that of U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

During his stay at the Academy, Sir Thomas met with Superintendent Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, lunched with cadets in Mitchell Hall, toured facilities in the academic area, and received a briefing on the Academy mission and operations.

Lady Pike was guest of Mrs. Warren at luncheon and also received a briefing on operation of the Air Force family services program.

Sir Thomas, a veteran fighter pilot, won the DFC in 1941 for daring night interception of enemy aircraft. He also served in the Middle East and Africa during World War II.

Also visiting the Academy Thursday was Maj. Gen. Mario Bucchi, inspector of Telecommunications and Flight Aids for the Italian Air Force.

Gen. Bucchi met the superintendent, received the Academy briefing, and watched "At The Ramparts" with the Italian sound track.

Summer Shift Is Noted for New Styles

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK (NEA) — A little shift here, a little shift there, and you'll find yourself on the beach in style.

This summer's shift is many things — a beach dress, a play dress, a poolside or patio lounge — and it even looks right in town.

Of all the summer casual togs, this will be the most versatile. In all its variations, it's a sensation. It will serve every social purpose except a dip in the briny deep or a summer evening that requires more than casual dress.

Lively ticking stripes and brilliant tropical prints vie with bright solid colors on the shifting scene.

Terry and sailcloth are some of the fabrics, handled with an imaginative touch. Sporty saddle stitching, feminine scallop embroidery, bold panels of color, all add special flavor.

There's even variety in the lines of the shift itself. It can be as narrow as an arrow in a side slit tropical print, or it can be a tent shape "beach blotter" in terry.

Free, uncluttered necklines and easily donned coat-dresses are favorites. Easy-care fabrics are another plus.

There's room for a whole wardrobe of these "go-everywhere" fashions as summer shifts us toward leisure living.

There are 885 tourist and travel agencies operating throughout Italy.

those who attended the open house party, April 26, from 2:30 to 4:30 at Blair Business College. Six future Secretaries of America, members of Manitou Springs High School, visited local business offices April 24 at 3:30 p.m.

Rev. Conrad Pyle, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crumbaker, led in services for a small gathering in the auditorium at the Union Printer's Home in Colorado Springs, a week ago. The Pikes Peak Churches who belong to the Council of Churches, regularly provide this leadership. The worship scheduled was from the Church in the Wildwood.

May 12, is "Get-Together" Sunday for members and friends of the Church in the Wildwood. New members will be honored and a program on "Migrants" given by the Missions, Social Action and fellowship Board.

A covered dish dinner will be served in Fellowship Hall at 6 p.m. Each is to bring meat or vegetable, and salad or pie, as well as their own table service. Child care will be provided during the program.

Administration, Clay Part Ways On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is making it known that it does not agree with Gen. Lucius D. Clay's recommendations for further cuts in foreign aid program.

For David Bell, foreign aid chief, has written a memorandum stating that the entire $4.5 billion President Kennedy has requested for foreign assistance in the coming year is needed, despite Clay's urging for additional reductions.

Clay, chairman of a presidential advisory committee on foreign aid, has been testifying at congressional committee hearings on the Kennedy request for the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

Clay has said the amount could be shaved to $4.3 billion, or perhaps to $4 billion, if certain economies are made in the Alliance for Progress program.

Officials said Wednesday night that Bell had sent copies of the memo to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high ranking authorities in the State and Defense Departments and in Bell's own Agency for International Development.

The reason for Bell's document, it was stated, is not to take issue with Clay, but to explain to responsible officials what AID's stand is on a foreign aid figure and why.

Nevada Atom Blast Scheduled in July

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says an above ground nuclear blast—the first announced in the United States since last July 17—will be detonated at the Nevada test site this month.

The shot will be one of two small ones scheduled for May, the AEC said.

A chemical type of blast will be set off in conjunction with the surface shot to compare effects.

Robinson's Hot Streak Leads Reds Over Colts

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, a notoriously slow starter, went 5-for-5 and drove in seven runs on two homers, two singles and a double Thursday night as Cincinnati erupted for its biggest offensive output of the season and crushed Houston 13-3. It was easily Robinson's best night and gave every indication that his bat, usually rather quiet in April, is beginning to point toward the ball like a diving rod. The 27-year-old right-handed swinger now has six homers and 22 runs batted in.

Robinson drove in two runs with a third inning double, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and connected for a three-run shot in the eighth. The sixth inning homer came off Jim Umbricht, Colts pitcher returned to the active list only hours before the game after recovering from cancer surgery. Umbricht, who pitched only one inning, said, "I'm not throwing real well, but I felt real good." The St. Louis Cardinals bombed the Los Angeles Dodgers for 17 hits, including a grand slam homer by Bill White, in a 10-7 victory. First-place San Francisco beat Milwaukee 8-2. Chicago's second-place Cubs ran their winning streak to six by beating Pittsburgh 3-1 behind Dick Ellsworth's two-hitter and the New York Mets made it four in a row with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Robinson's chief assistant in the power department, Vada Pinson, joined in the Reds' bombardment with four RBI on two singles and a double. The victory went to Jim Maloney, bringing his record to 4-1. White hit the first pitch by Dodger reliever Dick Scott for his grand slam as the Cards exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning. Gene Oliver and Charlie James also homered for St. Louis. Felipe Alou drove in three runs with his seventh homer and two doubles and scored four runs in the Giants' victory at Milwaukee. Ed Bailey also drove in three runs with Billy O'Dell winning his fourth without a loss in a battle with Warren Spahn.

The Cubs won their ninth in 10 games as Ellsworth allowed only a second inning single by Don Cledonson and Dick Schofield's single in the ninth. Tim Harkness drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single and Johnny Klippstein uncorked a wild pitch that sent the winning run home in a three-run ninth inning uprising that gave the Mets a sweep of the three-game series with the Phillies.

Liston, Patterson Bout Definitely Set July 22

NEW YORK (AP) — Neither Floyd Patterson's injured finger nor his projected trip to strife-torn Birmingham, Ala., will cause any further delay in his rematch with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, Patterson insists.

Patterson was knocked out in the first round of his first fight with Liston. Their oft-postponed rematch now is scheduled for Las Vegas July 22. "The fight definitely will go on July 22," the former champion said Thursday. "Even if my hand hasn't healed, it will go on. There will be no more delay on my part."

Nor, said Patterson, would his trip to racially-troubled Birmingham delay the bout, though he added: "I expect to be arrested. I expect to be handled roughly and put in jail. I imagine there will be somebody to put up bail."

Patterson and baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson said they were going to Birmingham next Monday.

Ray Herbert Blanks Yanks For Chicago

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Herbert was just another good journeyman pitcher before he made his way to Chicago. But there, under manager Al Lopez, he found the magic touch.

Herbert hadn't caused many sensations in eight seasons at Detroit and Kansas City, although he won almost as many as he lost. One season he even won more than he lost.

Then came the trade to Chicago. Last year, his first full season with the White Sox, he had a 20-9 record and led the league in won-lost percentage.

This season his start is even better. He's 4-1 and all the victories have been shutouts, the last three in a row. The last was a two-hit, 2-0 blanking of the New York Yankees Thursday night that protected the White Sox' one game lead atop the standings and dropped the Yankees to fifth.

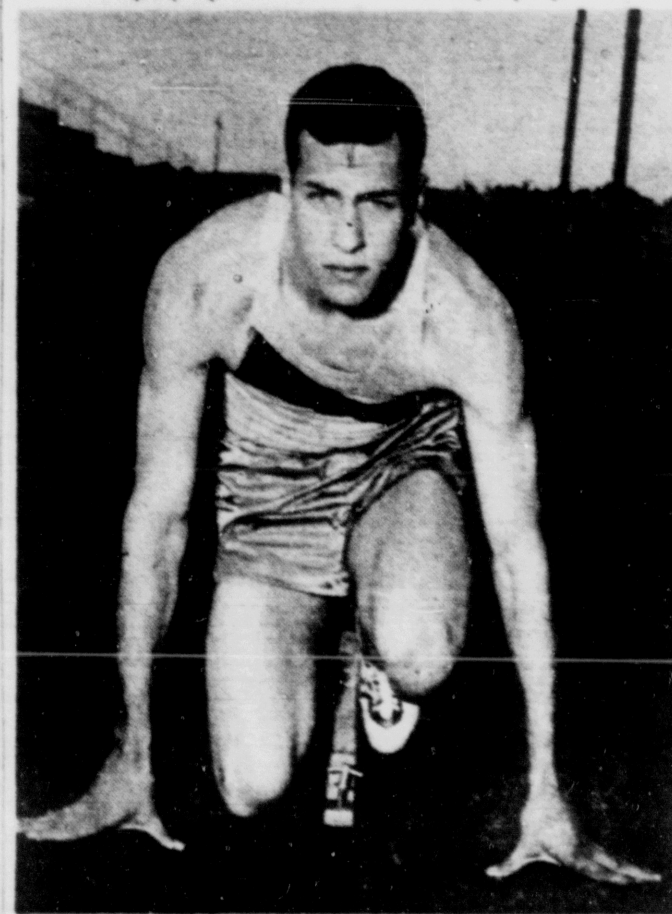

Baltimore climbed into a share of second with a 4-1 triumph over Boston while Washington finally got around to beating Mudcat Grant, whipping the Cleveland Indians 6-0 behind Dave Stenhouse, in the only other games scheduled.

Herbert, 33, a right-hander, allowed the stumbling Yankees only three base runners in extending his scoreless inning string to 27. A two-run double by shortstop Ron Hansen was all the hitting support Herbert needed.

Grant had won 12 straight in Washington before the Senators finally got to him. He left in the fourth after Ed Brinkman unloaded a three-run homer. Stenhouse spaced seven hits in gaining his first shutout of the season. Chuck Estrada and Stu Miller combined for a three-hitter in the Orioles' victory over Boston. Boog Powell's sixth homer of the season and a two-run double by Brooks Robinson were the key blows for Baltimore.

in each event will earn a berth winners are Cheyenne Mountain Salda, and Florence have the in the State Class AA meet scheduled for Saturday, May 18, at competing include Manitou Springs, Harrison, Leadville, Alamosa.

Chuck Loper's high 'stepping' Gladiators could possibly break a runner-up tradition that has the second place position for the District Meet for the last three years. But the Widefield runner-up jinx on Saturday, Bas crew will receive competition on previous meets, the Widefield squad could re-write the District Meet record book. Trackmen from Widefield. Also high of the list of potential Cheyenne, Fountain, Manitou WIDEFIELD SPEED MERCHANT — Rusty Henninger, Widefield's ace sprinter, will be out to defend his record in the 100 yard dash and another victory in the 220. Henninger is the 1962 State Class AA 220 champion and holds the District record in the century race (10.2). Some nine PPL teams will be competing in Saturday's District Track and Field Meet.

Mines Has Favorite's Role For Conference Track Meet

GOLDEN — The first team track title in the school's history will be the target for the Colorado Mines Orediggers this Saturday, during the 54th running of the Rocky Mountain Conference Track Championships, here.

The Miners have never won a team title in the annual RMC meet, but they will be the favorites on Saturday. Mines won both the indoor and outdoor RMC relays, own a string of four straight direct competition wins, and have lost only one outdoor meet this season. That was a 66-65 dual meet loss to Colorado State College, April 5.

The championships will be held at Brooks Field, Golden, with morning preliminaries and afternoon finals. All five Conference schools are entered. Freshman standout Tom Elliott and veteran George Brinkworth will anchor Mines. Together, they have earned more than a third of the Oredigger points this year.

Era of 'Marvelous Marv' Ends as Mets Ship Clown

NEW YORK (AP) — This, then, is the end of an era. Marvelous Marv is gone.

And a lot of the clown has gone out of the New York Mets. Marv Throneberry, whose play around first base made him the living symbol of the hapless Mets last season, has been optioned to Buffalo of the International League.

Perhaps by coincidence, the Mets suddenly are acting most un-Marv-like. They've won four in a row, the last two with ninth-inning rallies. Their pitching has been good, at times spectacular. They're getting just enough hitting. Their fielding is above reproach and they haven't pulled a rock in a week.

Which isn't at all like the Mets of a year ago who, as personified by the luckless Throneberry, lost a record 120 games. "Things just seem to happen to me," Throneberry once remarked of his play. And indeed they did. Usually they were bad things. Or at least comical.

Not that Marv planned it that way. It just happened. And, in one year, he became a legend in his own time.

Dey Predicts Nicklaus On Brink of Greatness

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Phenomenal poise is the chief asset of Jack Nicklaus' game, the executive director of the U.S. Golf Association said today in predicting that the 23-year-old Columbus, Ohio, phenom may become the greatest golfer of all time.

"Of course, Jack still has a long way to go to match the records of Ben Hogan and Ben Hagen," Joe Dey said, "but he has tremendous potential. I have been high on him since I first saw him play as an amateur."

"He has power. He has a marvelous putting touch. But I think the one thing that really distinguishes him is his poise. He is a youngster with amazing control of his emotions."

Dey was drawn out on the subject of golf's wonder boy after announcing that a total of 2,410 players had signed up to try to shoot at Nicklaus' National Open crown in the 63rd annual championship at the Country Club in Brookline, Mass., June 20-22.

Nicklaus, who won the Open as a rookie pro at Oakland last year and came back this year to beat Arnold Palmer in the Masters and shoot to the front in the important money-winning race, is one of 21 players exempt from qualifying for the Open at Brookline.

The others must compete in local qualifying tests May 27-28 and sectional trials June 10-11 to make the 150-man field which tees off in the tournament proper. Seventy-nine courses in 37 states will be used for the week-long process.

Besides Nicklaus, the exempt players include: Champions — Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Tommy Bolt, four previous Open champions, Gary Player, PGA; Lardon Harris, National Amateur; Richard Davies, British Amateur.

Among top ten in 1962 Open—Phil Rodgers, Bobby Nichols, Gay Brewer, Tommy Jacobs, Billy Maxwell, Doug Ford, Doug Sanders, Art Wall, Bob Rosburg.

Among top ten on PGA tour—Tony Lema, Bob Goalby, Bruce Crampton, Dave Ragan.

The entry list had one conspicuous omission. Hogan, four-time winner, is missing for the first time since 1938. He is recovering from a burstitis operation.

In other series, third-place Colorado, 8-3, faces fourth-place Kansas, 7-6, at Lawrence, while Iowa State, 2-10, meets Kansas State, 1-13, to decide which club escapes the cellar at Manhattan.

Doubleheaders are set for today in each series, single games Saturday.

Doubleheaders are set for today in each series, single games Saturday.

Missouri has a 12-2 record to Oklahoma's 10-2. After this week-end, only three more games remain for each club. Missouri closes against Kansas while OU finishes against seventh-place Iowa State.

Mizzou hopes Oklahoma State, 8-7, with a pair of top pitchers will be dog and horse racing without a break except for Sundays until Oct. 31, the last night of the Colorado Springs greyhound season.

There will also be dog racing at Pueblo and Denver, and thoroughbred racing at Brush and Centennial, near Littleton. Cloverleaf's fall meeting will open Sept. 2.

Deron Johnson Bombs Bears With Three Homer Barrage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pacific Coast League pitchers may win a bit when San Diego's Deron Johnson steps up to the plate. They have a good reason. The $20,000 acquisition from the Kansas City Athletics faced Denver pitchers four times Thursday and got three hits—all of them home runs.

He knocked Denver starter Dick Kelley off the mound in the first inning with a grand slammer and made life miserable for reliever Roger Clapp with two other homers. The Padres stunned the Bears 11-1.

Salt Lake City tagged five pitchers for 13 hits to overwhelm Spokane 10-2 in the league's only other scheduled game.

Johnson's three roundtrips raised his season total to 10 and his runs batted in to 25. Scott Breeden allowed the Bears only four hits, two of them in the first when Denver scored its lone run.

Chico Salmon singled and came home on Jim McKnight's single after two walks.

Billy Cowan and Billy Ott did most of the damage to Spokane with four hits apiece. Cowan's hits included a triple. Ott had a home run and a double.

Wayne Carlander, who got credit for the victory, held Spokane scoreless until the seventh.

Howe totaled 111 out of a possible 180 points. Mikita polled 54 and Terry Sawchuk of the Red Wings, the leader at the season's halfway mark with 37, finished third with 44.

CU's Past Grid Greats To Give Varsity a Test

BOULDER (UPI)—An alumni team composed of the most outstanding players to compete for the University of Colorado in recent years will provide an extremely rough test for the varsity Saturday in a spring training game at Folsom Field.

Eddie Crowder, making his first appearance as Colorado head coach under game conditions, will send his varsity against the alumni charges of Dal Ward, former head coach and now assistant athletic director.

Ward has an excellent group of passers and receivers around which to build his winged-T aerial attack. Quarterback Gale Weidner will have such standout receivers as Jerry Hillebrand, Frank Clarke, again be worn by the two-time All Ken Blair and Gary Hensen.

Clarke is one of the leading receivers in the National Football League.

For protection, Weidner will have pro tackles Bill Frank and Jim Perkins, guards Bob McCullough, also a pro, and Bill Mondt, with Walt Klinker at the center spot.

On the defensive team, the alumni will have a backfield of Eddie Dove, Claude Crab and Frank Bernardi, all with pro experience, and Reed Johnson.

In the line will be pro Mel Semken and Dan Grimm at ends, John Denver, a pro, and Ralph Hale at tackles, Bill Bearss and Dale Christensen at guards and Joe Romig at center.

Romig's No. 67, retired last year because of all the honors he received as a star at CU, will be in the team's physical condition. But the varsity running attack is expected to be strong, featured by Bill Symons, Bill Harcris and Larry Potts. At quarterback will be Frank Rogers, a third-string fresh quarterback last fall, and Ted Somerville, a converted halfback.

to have good soil to have a good lawn!Are you discouraged with your lawn? Has someone been telling you that it will never be any good with that terrible soil? Then read this.SCOTTS has developed a way to grow a thick, satisfying carpet of grass on any kind of soil — even subsoil.As a result, thousands of homeowners coast-to-coast are enjoying lovelier lawns on sub-standard soils of all kinds! And these people maintain their lawns with ease.No need to buy topsoilYou too can beautify your lawn without the expense of bringing in topsoil if you use TURF BUILDER.* This unique fertilizer provides all the nutrients grass needs for vigorous growth. Your soil then is required only to provide anchorage for the grass plants — and any soil does that.Nutrients "locked-in" until neededWhat your grass needs is a dependable and controlled nutrient supply that won't leach away and that won't under or over-feed, regardless of the weather. This is what your lawn gets with TURF BUILDER, the only fertilizer that is Renarized — the patented process that locks in the nutrientsuntil the right combination of biological forces gradually brings about their release.Furthermore, TURF BUILDER supplies the protein-building power that builds sturdy roots. As root growth increases, it creates humus which in turn increases moisture retention and establishes a better growth environment.A greener, thicker lawnYou'll find that it's a pleasure to use TURF BUILDER. It is light to handle — and never dusty. It has no odor, before or after use.
You'll never know how good your present lawn could be until you start feeding it with TURF BUILDER.How about this week end?It takes less than half an hour to feed the typical lawn (5000 sq ft) with TURF BUILDER. The cost is less than a fifth of a cent per square foot for an extra generous first feeding and half as much thereafter.Visit or telephone your Scotts Dealer today so you have
TURF BUILDER on hand for use the next pleasant evening.

Judge Drops Charges in Cross Complaints

A couple who had filed complaints against each other had the charges dropped Thursday in Municipal Court by Judge Allan Asher.

Mrs. Rosana Bowden, 33, 709 S. Cedar St., was charged with riotous conduct and breach of the peace, and her husband, Edward Bowden, 35, was charged with disorderly conduct, riotous conduct and breach of peace.

Boyden was represented in court by attorney Bill Carew.

The judge also dismissed charges against Mrs. Lois Michaelis, 54, 420 Laurel St., and Charles Clayton, 36, 2570 W. Kiowa St., when the complaining witnesses failed to appear in court.

Mrs. Michaelis, charged with taking the right of way, was represented by William Aman, and Clayton, charged with riotous conduct and breach of peace, was represented by Howard Kunstle.

Ronald Fox, 23, of Ft. Carson, changed his plea to guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $15. Carew represented him.

Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac moved to dismiss a careless driving charge against Donald Metcalf, 23, 1631 W. Kiowa St., which the judge agreed to.

Alfred Kendrick, 36, of Palmer Lake, pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness and breach of the peace and had May 24 set for his trial.

Felix Ramirez, 34, pleaded guilty to being drunk and being a vagrant, and was fined $50.

Two men, James Whan, Plains, Kan., and Hurley Stevens, 77, 1015 W. Vermijo St., failed to appear and their $25 bonds each were ordered forfeited. They were charged with drunkenness.

Clyde Baker, 60, of Denver, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge and was given a 10-day jail sentence which Judge Asher suspended on condition that the man not again appear in city court.

Publisher Heads Lions Club At Florence

Florence Lions club members elected a new slate of officers for the year 1963-64 at a business meeting Thursday naming Bob Cruzen, publisher of the Florence Citizen, president.

Other officers are Dr. Peter J. Gamache, first vice-president; Gale Decker, second vice president; and Larry Cavanaugh, re-appointed secretary.

Howard Gore, manager-owner of the Florence Gambles store, is outgoing president and will serve on the board of directors with the other officers.

During the course of the business meeting, the Lions agreed to hold a Pancake Breakfast the morning of Sunday, May 19 at the new Florence cafeteria. Gale Decker will be in charge of the breakfast and will be assisted by Jerry Sandell and Larry Cavanaugh.

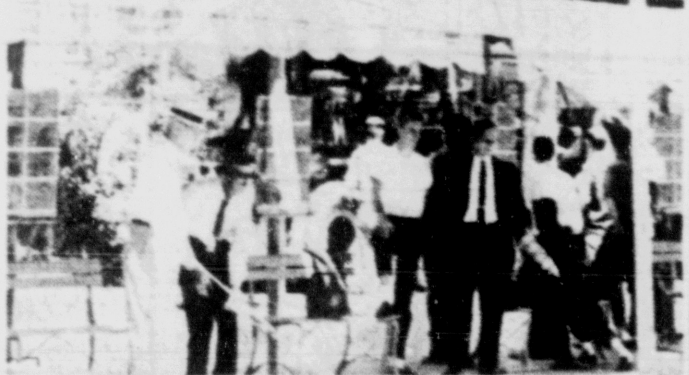

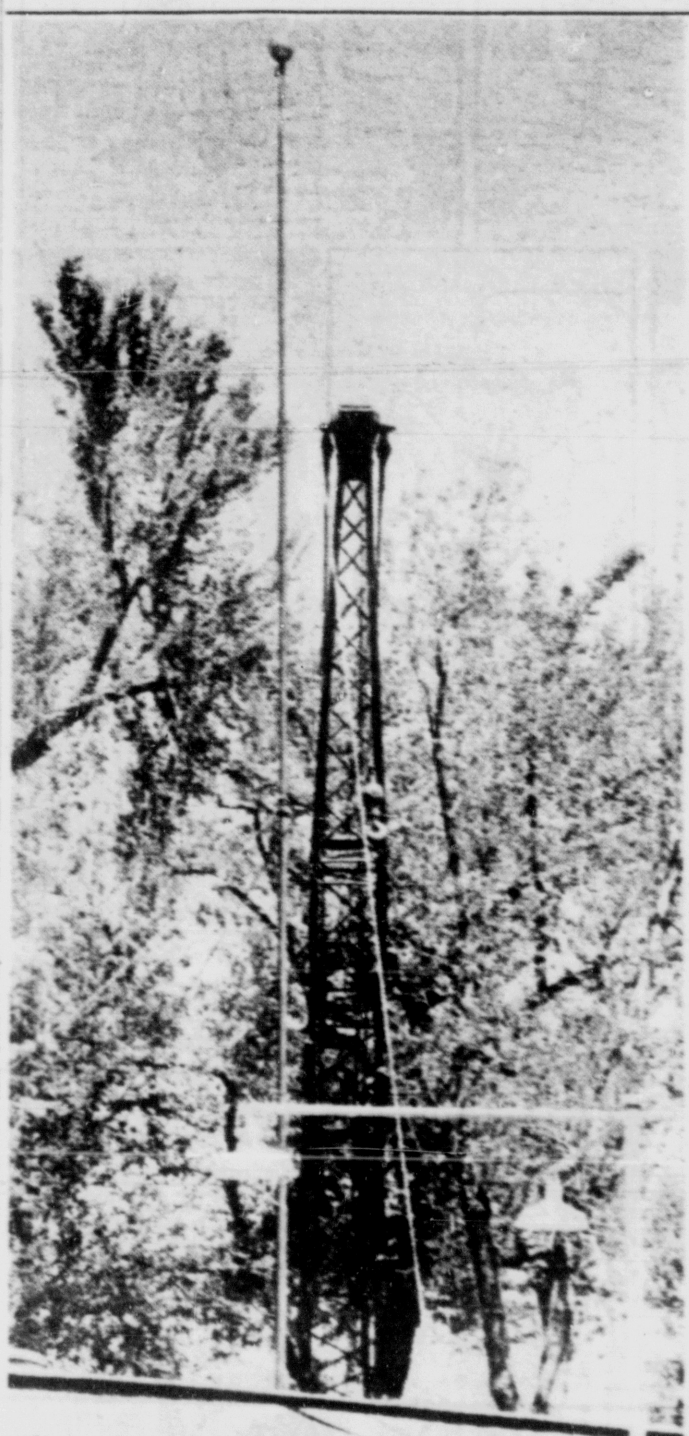

This week the Lions are sponsoring the Happy Day Rides, a carnival owned by John Oxford and family of Denver. Each spring the local service club sponsors this amusement firm and uses its revenue to carry out community projects.

Lions club members will work in the carnival ticket booths Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. The rides will set up directly behind Florence Hotel on Santa Fe avenue.

Saturday Lions club members, under the direction of Chairman Bob Depe, worked during the afternoon painting city park benches and equipment as part of the annual Clean-up Paint-up drive.

Rigid Water Regulations Start at Florence Today

With a continued shortage of water from the watershed south of Florence, local city councilmen agreed to adopt rigid water regulations on city consumers in hopes of conserving the 25 million gallons now in reservoir storage.

On the recommendations of City Manager Frank Carochi, the council, by resolution, will put new watering restrictions into effect Friday. The city council approved a plan to limit the use of city water for lawn sprinkling and the washing of vehicles to the hours of 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. two days each week with even numbered sides of the street on Monday and Wednesday and odd numbered sides of the street on Tuesday and Fridays.

It is further stipulated that all hoses must have attached sprinklers. Extra sprinkling hours will be allotted to those who have registered new lawns prior to the May 10 date.

Violations of the water restrictions will draw a $10 fine for the first offense and a $25 fine for a second offense. It is also noted that water service to such violation premises will be discontinued until all fines or assessments are paid.

In making his recommendations for water restrictions at his Carochi told the council that he has never seen the Florence watershed as dry as it now is. He declared that the flow of water from Mineral-Adobe creeks has dropped to 1/2-inch and Newlin creek to 1-inch.

Largest spring run-off was a mere 2 inches from Mineral and 2 1/2 inches from Newlin on April 9-10. "Even the beavers can't find enough water to dam up," he said. "Water is so scarce in Fremont ditch for irrigation that we can't get enough for the west side park and we're hauling water to the cemetery to hold what sod we have."

In other business, Carochi told the council that Stearns-Rogers will have plans completed for the new water plant to call for bids May 15. Bid are expected to be let by June 1.

The council approved the purchase of a lot from Jim Hays and donation of a second lot by Hays for use of the city for a water pipeline right-of-way, and the council also approved a land swap between the city and Mayor McFall, also for the purpose of a right-of-way on the West Mesa.

City Attorney Jack Merwin was instructed to launch legal proceedings against several property owners for delinquent water and paving bills, and the city fathers gave the green light to Manager Carochi to work up a damage survey for the Soil Conservation service on the Dry creek which runs through the west section of the city.

The SCS is expected to obtain federal funds to eliminate flood hazards on Dry creek if enough evidence is submitted by the city as the result of the proposed survey.

Teacher Gets Protection in Vandalism Case

BOULDER (AP)—A 34-year-old Boulder school teacher who has filed complaints of vandalism against several students, has been offered the services of a school attorney.

Natt B. Burbank, superintendent of Boulder Valley District schools, said he has directed a school attorney "to assist her in protecting her interests."

The teacher is Miss Eloise Timmons, who instructs English at Fairview High School in the newly developed suburban area east of Boulder.

Miss Timmons said she signed complaints against several teen-aged boys in connection with acts of vandalism at her home.

She said she signed the complaints because "I've heard that detectives do a great deal of work in investigating these cases only to have no action taken on them because complaints are not signed."

Burbank describes Miss Timmons as a good teacher who "requires a high level of achievement" from her students. He said several parents are miffed because some of the cases against their boys have gotten into court.

He said that some students seem to "have it in" for Miss Timmons. He said that if the parents attempt to have her dismissed he would handle the matter.

Miss Timmons said that since last February red paint has been smeared on the windows and mailbox at the apartment house where she lives, an outhouse was deposited in her yard, garbage was smeared over her car, and obscenities painted on the wall of the apartment building.

Miss Timmons said that once she cautioned another of the boys against driving recklessly through the high school grounds. He, too, told the court he held no grudge against her, she said.

The teacher said that one of the parents asked the court at a hearing for an investigation of Miss Timmons, and said that school discipline should be enforced more strictly.

Miss Timmons said that many students have talked to her after class about the request for an investigation. "They consider this insinuation untrue," she said, and "many of them have said: 'I think you a good teacher and I have learned a great deal from you.'"

Miss Timmons said the parent insinuated that there must be something wrong with her, or else. "Why are the boys against her?"

Miss Timmons, an Oklahoma native, has been teaching in the Fairview district since 1955.

Migrant Children's Schools Are Planned

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado State Board of Education Wednesday gave the go-ahead to open three special summer schools for children of migratory workers at the cost of $26,000.

The board said the schools would be operated at Wiggins, Miliken and San Luis. More such special schools were expected to be authorized later.

The board also gave Colorado Women's College full approval to train elementary school teachers, beginning this fall, and authorized the first quarterly payment under the 1963-64 School Foundation Act.

The payment was estimated at $11.5 million.

SCHWEIKER CALLS OFF BID FOR MARINE'S PROBE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., called off today his bid for a congressional investigation of the case of a former Marine officer William A. Szili.

Szili has said he was ousted from the Marine Corps last year for his part in hiding the body of a Cuban he labeled as a spy.

Schweiker's decision left intact the veil of official secrecy that surrounds the slaying and secret burial of Ruben Lopez, who was a bus driver at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Schweiker told newsmen "I have exhausted the congressional remedies available in this case." He said any further action will have to be decided upon by Szili and his attorney, John J. O'Brien Jr., Philadelphia.

College Student Hoax Seen in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Circulars claiming to reveal New Zealand's security plans in the event of nuclear war were a hoax perpetrated by 15 college students.

The students, from Victoria University, admitted distributing the circulars Monday in hundreds of Wellington mail boxes. Police said no action will be taken.

Fires in national forests were at a record low last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. In 1962 the number of acres burned was 87,903, compared with 224,394 in 1961.

THE FLYING AGE
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Programs were passed out to 6,500 grade school pupils Monday after, rather than before, a student performance of Mozart's opera, "The Magic Flute."

The reason, said Dr. William C. Hartshorn, was "because in previous years we often had 8,000 airplanes flying on stage at the beginning of a program."

Let's face it—nobody wants a safety belt. But with 10 million accidents a year, the odds are that each of us is going to be in an accident sooner or later.

We feel obliged to do what we can to reduce the injuries and deaths from automobile accidents. Safety belts, we're convinced, are the best remedy available.

So, we're offering for a limited time a top quality belt for only $5.98 on terms of $1 a month per belt. We'll install them free. Don't you agree it's a small price to pay to double your family's safety?

The National Safety Council says that, of the 442 lives lost during a July 4th weekend, about half of them would have survived had they been wearing seat belts. Crippling injuries would have been reduced by 60%.

Needed at low speeds? The need for safety belts is greater in neighborhood driving than at highway speeds. Most accidents occur at speeds under 40 miles per hour and less than 25 miles from home.

Belts uncomfortable? When snugly secured, safety belts lessen fatigue on long trips by holding you in a relaxed, yet properly postured position.

What about the belt? The Beam's #200 Auto Safety Belt is commended by Parents' Magazine and exceeds rigid S.A.E. and Federal specifications. Instant release metal-to-metal buckle; Immediate non-slip adjustment to any size for your complete comfort; Extra strong 100% Caprolan nylon webbing; Choose from 6 harmonizing sunfast colors.

Remember—safety belts save lives!
